

GLOBAL INSTITUTIONAL PROFILES PROJECT

COMPLIMENTARY 2011 PROFILE:
UNIVERSITY OF BUCHAREST

INTRODUCTION

Thomson Reuters Institutional Profiles Project creates accurate and comprehensive profiles of research institutions around the world.

With reliable and objective data on each institution, users of the data in these profiles and elsewhere are better equipped to:

- Validate and quantify executive and strategic decisions
- Support marketing, publicity and other promotional efforts
- Supplement rankings and other assessment initiatives with additional indicators of excellence

By working closely with a multitude of personnel from universities and other related institutions around the world, we have been able to create the richest, clearest profiles to date – portraits of facts and figures on research activity, funding, students, and staff, supported by verifiable indicators from Thomson Reuters, the most trusted information provider in the market today.

ABOUT THE REPORT

This Profile has been based on data from three main sources: data provided by the institution directly to Thomson Reuters; data on the institution's publications and citations from Thomson Reuters Web of Science<sup>SM</sup>; and the results of our recently conducted Academic Reputation Survey.

For more information please see: <http://science.thomsonreuters.com/globalprofilesproject/>

Thomson Reuters has conducted extensive validation of the data and applied powerful analytical techniques to interpret and present the data in a meaningful way.

This Profile and all data included herein may be used as a promotional and/or marketing device, as a management tool to be shared internally with colleagues for purposes of evaluation, or to provide institutional research executives with information on research performance. The information in this report may be used to assist students or faculty in the selection of your institution. You may use this report in the following ways:

Post it on your institution's website (see below)

Share with administrators at other institutions

Submit with research assessments or government and funding proposals

Please note the data tables and individual performance results are the property of Thomson Reuters. Use of any of the information must include the copyrighted Thomson Reuters logo that accompanies this report, as well as the following notice: "Thomson Reuters reserves all rights in the data and data should not be extracted, republished, redistributed or used for any commercial purpose."

BRIEF DESCRIPTION

The development of international cooperation and the active participation at the academic community life represents an essential component of the strategy of the University of Bucharest. One of the main objectives the University pays great attention to is international academic cooperation. There are 200 agreements for bilateral inter-university and inter-departmental cooperation with universities from Algeria, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Brazil, Bulgaria, Cyprus, Chile, China, Egypt, Finland, France, Georgia, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Hungary, Iran, India, Italy, Japan, Kazakhstan, Mexico, Morocco, the Republic of Moldova, Senegal, Singapore, South Korea, Spain, Slovenia, the United Arab Emirates, USA, Sweden, Russia, Tunisia, Turkey, Ukraine, Uruguay, etc. The University has 130 bilateral agreements for joint supervision doctoral studies and an intense collaboration within numerous community programs – ERASMUS, LEONARDO DA VINCI, and GRUNDTVIG. Its intense international activity makes the University of Bucharest increasingly more notorious in Europe and worldwide. The number of ERASMUS students who come to learn with us is close to 100 per year, and many choose to remain a second semester as well, because the learning environment seems favorable to them. The number of students coming from African and Asian countries has also risen. The University has programs in foreign

MISSION STATEMENT

The first university of Romania, according to the Romanian Ministry of Education, the University of Bucharest contributes through research and higher-education to the development and use of knowledge, at both national and international level. UB is a university with academic integrity and a concern for critical thinking, a significant point of reference in society. The institution is in the top rank for scientific research in the country, and it contributes to the development of human knowledge through its research centres. The University in Bucharest forms students able of critically examining social and natural phenomena, of seeking solutions to problems they face, of imagining alternatives to existing solutions, young people prepared to accept other cultures' visions of life and to assume a leading role in tomorrow's Romania. The University of Bucharest cultivates and supports the values of academic freedom and university autonomy, of academic integrity and responsibility for a lasting evolution. The University of Bucharest supports the innovation of higher education, working on the European integration of our country, on the consolidation of the European Higher Education Area and the European

SUMMARY

We hope you find this report informative. We look forward to many years of continued work in improving the multidimensional approach to institutional profiling, data validation, and qualitative assessment. As the world's fastest growing information specialist and data provider, Thomson Reuters is poised to take this lead. For over half a century Thomson Reuters has pioneered the world of citation indexing and analysis. We are therefore uniquely positioned to help institutions make informed decisions and enable our customers to define direction. We look forward to continuing to partner with stakeholders and institutions around the world and welcome any feedback you may have.

We would also like to make you aware of our many other solutions that support research institutions, governments, policy advisors, and higher education institutions around the world every day.

Whatever your institution's particular needs are – a one-time performance report, a fully integrated platform for ongoing evaluation, or a personalized consultation with custom analysis – Thomson Reuters has offerings that can help elevate research excellence for institutions of any kind. We help our customers understand the research activities at their institution – and how they compare to peers – enabling them to put programs into place that help them attract top researchers, secure funding, facilitate collaborations, and allocate resources.

Measure: Regularly monitor activities and trends with solutions such as InCites™, Journal Citation Reports®, and Research In View™. Both our web-based and enterprise-wide systems provide a wide range of data, analytic, and benchmarking tools for quantitative-based decision making. AVAILABLE NOW: Our recently launched Institutional Profiles module combines information collected as part of this Institutional Profiles Project with citation metrics from Web of Science™ to provide profiles for nearly 500 of the world's leading institutions on a wide array of indicators such as faculty size, reputation, funding, citation measures and more.

Partner: Get answers to pressing questions unique to your institution. In consultation with our expert staff, we provide quantitative analysis and interpretation based on our deep understanding of scholarly research. From delivery of custom data sets to regular reports analyzing scholarship trends to custom studies to answer your institution's specific research management questions, our unique expertise helps you turn data into action.

Build: We develop customized research management systems that support internal or external workflows. Our customers come to us with a problem to solve and we work with them from the beginning – developing requirements – to the end – delivering a solution. We engineer systems that organize and integrate data and provide an analytic interface for reporting activities; the focus is on Web-based solutions, from web sites through to full database and software implementations. Our Engineered Systems pull from multiple data sources and types to support ongoing evaluation at the individual, program, and institutional level and are overlaid with analytic capabilities to streamline reporting.
